

This is a text box that word wraps. Move it anywhere you want. Press F2 to create a text box.

This "No" is positioned in a custom way. I had to indent after text several cm. To do this, select the text, right click, Paragraph, Indents and Spacing.

The "Phase II" in the blue box (rectangle) above is positioned at the bottom. The default position is centered. To change that, select the rectangle, select text, right-click the selected text, select Paragraph and insert some spacing above or below the paragraph. Click OK and adjust again as needed.

This is a label in the rectangle, select the rectangle, right click, click the Text tab, check the box Word wrap text in shape.

{ This is a double brace symbol. }

Press F2 to create this text box. To create a new rectangle, click the Rectangle and drag the mouse to size the box. Right-click the rectangle and select Area to change the background colour. Drag it over some shapes and send it to the background.
